

Internationalization of Curriculum Studies Graduate Student Conference

December 2nd, 2009
Session 1 (5:30 pm – 6:20 pm)

Panel 1 (LMX 418)

Un/Bridging The School Curricula to Transform Mirrors Into Windows
(Valérie Robert, University of Ottawa)

“You’ve Done Well for a Portuguese”: Exploring my Portuguese Identity through Curriculum Theory
(Justine Sousa, University of Ottawa)

Understanding Palestinian Narratives: Gender, Globalization, and Curriculum
(Rola Dukhan, University of Ottawa)

Panel 2 (LMX 451)

Narrative Curricular Wanderings in an Ontario Secondary School
(Brennan Trainor, University of Ottawa)

*Divide and Conquer: Looking at the Socioeconomics Status of Marginalized Students
Through the Lens of Curriculum Theory*
(Nannette Maassen, University of Ottawa)

Challenging the Myth within the Curriculum: A Struggle of a Non-Aboriginal (Lindsay Lee, University of Ottawa)

Undefined Intervals: Approaching curriculum as a liminal space
(Kevin Spence, University of Ottawa)

Session 2 (6:30 pm – 7: 20 pm)

Panel 1 (LMX 403)

Bridging a curriculum of comfort and controversy: A Complicated Conversation
(Nisha Toomey, University of Ottawa)

Global Narratives about a Madrassa Education and Curriculum
(Muhammad Chuhan, University of Ottawa)

Questioning Text: Muslim Students' Reading Literature in School and the Implications for Curriculum Theory
(Kherta Sherif Mohamed, University of Ottawa)

Panel 2 (LMX 418)

A Curriculum Full of Peace: Cultivating peace in self, other and the world
(Stephanie Partridge, University of Ottawa)

A Peace Curriculum: To Rage or not to Rage
(Doreen Rivard, University of Ottawa)

(Re)conceptualizing Global Realities: Curricular Challenges and Possibilities
(Jennifer Homanchuk, University of Ottawa)

Session 3 (7:25 pm – 8:15 pm)

Panel 1 (LMX 403)

The Journey Within: A M/other's Retrospection on a Curriculum of Pregnancy
(Adrienne Annan, University of Ottawa)

Colouring An Autobiographical Curriculum
(Jennifer Dawson, University of Ottawa)

T/ouching currere: nursing narratives
(Sonia Duarte, University of Ottawa)

Panel 2 (LMX 418)

Food for Thought: Chewing on the Curriculum of Culture, Place and Relationships
(Allison Eagen, University of Ottawa)

Social Networking: A Lesson in Digital Colonization
(Carmen Au, University of Ottawa)

Challenges to Japanese History Curriculum: A Japanese-Korean Case Study
(Jennifer Toye, University of Ottawa)

Closing Address (8:15 – 8:30)

Framing Narratives of Globalization: Curriculum, Peace, and Cosmopolitan Citizenship
(Nicholas Ng-A-Fook, University of Ottawa)